UTAH'S RESIDENTS across the globe

Salt Lake City International Airport (SLC) is a major economic driver for the region, located just minutes from downtown Salt Lake City. The airport serves as a critical transportation hub and supports both domestic and international connectivity, reinforcing the area's accessibility and appeal for residents and businesses.

SLC serves more than 28 million passengers annually and offers approximately 330 daily flights to over 100 nonstop destinations. The airport continues to expand through its $5 billion redevelopment program, which includes a new terminal, additional concourses, and plans to grow to over 90 gates upon completion.

In addition to global connectivity, residents benefit from immediate access to world-class recreation, including 10 ski resorts, five national parks, and numerous state parks, further enhancing quality of life and long-term demand in the Salt Lake market.
